General Remarks

This period is outstanding, marking the highest annual revenue growth in the last seven quarters, primarily fueled by the mass segment. This segment's strength is evident in its ongoing consolidation through the expansion into new territories and consistent organic growth. These factors contributed to a notable increase in consolidated EBITDA, the highest in the last twelve months. Operationally, the year-over-year comparison highlights a new record in net adds of unique subscribers and RGUs. Furthermore, the expansion of homes passed and additional network kilometers exceeded this year's initial targets.

ARPU

ARPU per unique subscriber was Ps. 418.7, practically in line with 2Q23 and 3Q22. This stability is attributed to prior price increases, which were offset by promotional rates in new territories. In terms of service-specific ARPUs, both Internet and Video experienced growth compared to 3Q22. Sequentially, the ARPU across the three Mass Segment services remained stable. In contrast, the ARPU for Mobile Services significantly rose against 3Q22, driven by the focus on more profitable post-paid packages.

Corporate Telecom Segment Revenues

Corporate Telecom Segment revenues were flat in comparison to 3Q22. This performance primarily stems from a 17.7% drop in ho1a, offset by 2.1% and 4.6% increases in MCM and MetroCarrier, respectively. MetroCarrier recorded a difficult comparison due to 2022 extraordinary revenues, while a seasonally adjusted slowdown was recorded in ho1a, after strong growth in the first half of the year, however, a cumulative comparison reveals a sustained 11.6% growth. This segment contributed 16.1% to the Company's total revenues, compared to 18.0% in 3Q22.

Cost & Expenses

During this quarter, the costs of services rose by 20.5% compared to 3Q22, with operating expenses climbing 14.0%. These rises are linked to the Company's expansive and organic growth. ### EBITDA

Net Income

Net Income for the quarter closed at Ps. 531 million, a decrease from 3Q22. This outcome is primary due to increased financial expenses, resulting from the higher debt, and a rise in depreciation related to investments undertaken in recent years.

Net Debt

Megacable ended the quarter with a Net Debt of Ps. 18,912 million, an increase in both year-over-year and sequential comparisons. This rise largely stems from the engagement of additional debt in recent periods, a strategic move that has enabled the Company to accelerate investments in its network evolution and expansion initiatives. As of the end of September 2023, the Company's leverage level was 1.4 times net debt/EBITDA, remaining within the range expected by the Company and standing as one of the lowest in the industry.
